Ebenezer Nobela
ASSOCIATE

Ebenezer is a duly admitted legal practitioner, conveyancer, and notary public. As a dynamic and versatile lawyer, he has extensive experience in litigation, ranging from civil, commercial, labour, and criminal matters. He also has a sharp focus on complex commercial transactions, contracts, property law, estate administration, and corporate governance. Over the years, Ebenezer has advised a diverse range of clients, including private individuals, major corporations, venture capital firms, national parastatals, local municipalities, foreign investors, and politically exposed persons. He firmly believes that the law is a powerful tool for driving economic growth through liberalisation and the embrace of emerging markets. His niche lies in the law of extractives, with particular expertise in mining and energy. To complement his practice, his postgraduate studies focus on mining, energy, and land law. In addition, Ebenezer serves on the boards of regional companies and non-profit organisations. Beyond the legal field, he is a man of faith, actively engaged in institutional development, mentorship, and charitable initiatives.
